

I listen to K-LOVE radio and it is a huge part of my life, I have been made aware that you are considering putting them on Low Power FM. I believe that K-LOVE is a greatly positive asset to my community, I know a lot of my friends that listen to it as well and as we have all commented, it is one of the few positive things left that is encouraging, uplifting and great for families to listen to together. We don't have to worry when we turn it on if our kids are going to hear things that even adults have no business listening to but choose to. Well I don't choose to, I choose to listen to something that is positive and family oriented. I know that K-LOVE reaches many people that are down on their luck and brings them hope, something everyone could use at different times in their lives and I feel you would be doing a great disservice to me as well as others by taking away a positive option, one of the few left out there.
